REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

A baking trap assembly for a bread maker including tray holders having a plurality of guide grooves on a first end of each tray holder, a fixed tray having an open side and being fixedly attached to a second end of each tray holder, a movable tray having another open side and a plurality of projections on opposite side walls thereof, the guide grooves of the tray holders rotatably accommodating the projections of the movable tray, with the movable tray adjacent to the fixed tray and the open sides of the movable tray and the fixed tray facing one another to form a container, and anchors projecting into upper openings of the guide grooves adjacent to the fixed tray to prevent the projections from exiting the guide grooves as the movable tray rotates is not taught nor fairly suggested by the prior art.
